Staying where God wants

#26215

I was in a job and not getting on well with one of my colleagues to the point where I was actively looking for another job. At every turn I was getting turned down, jobs that I knew I could do and had the right skills for.

I prayed asking God what I should do and said that if He really wanted me to stay where I was then something drastic needed to change as I didn't want to be there.

I went to work the day after and was informed that the colleague I was struggling with had handed her notice in the afternoon before and was leaving.

I stayed in that role for another three and a half years before God opened the right door at the right time.

God sends an angel

We were on holiday with friends on the Greek island of Rhodes. Late one afternoon we drove our hire car out on to the beach. This was a fun thing to do, but also very stupid, because although the sand was hard at first, it became softer and soon afterwards the car got completely stuck. We looked around for people to help – no one was about. No one knew where we were (this was before mobile phones!) We looked for a piece of wood to wedge under the tyres – nothing!

I said: “I think we should pray and ask God for help.” We looked up and a huge man, wearing camouflage gear was coming towards us. He said nothing, but bent down and lifted the car out of the soft sand and placed it where we could drive again.

When we turned to thank him, he disappeared as mysteriously as he had come. I am convinced God sent an angel to rescue us in answer to our prayer.

My husband had a stroke was put on end-of-life care. Two friends and our two church leaders prayed around his bed. Next day with the ventilator was removed, he was still breathing and said, 'Hello' to the nurse caring for him. Both the Stroke and ICU consultant said it was a miracle and agreed God had intervened.

Not only did he retain his memory but in the last nine months the Lord has been restoring his ability to speak, swallow, and although still has a wheelchair, he can walk with a zimmer frame a good distance, climb stairs, do his own personal hygiene, and weekly is gaining greater independence.

Immediate response to 'daily bread' prayer

#1505

It was summer this year and I was trying to have a quiet time with Jesus. I was in my living room, sat on the sofa, middle of the day. I was feeling disconnected from God, trying to pray but feeling as if I had loads of browser tabs open in my mind, I couldn't focus, I couldn't get through my thoughts. I sat there and said 'I'm going to pray to you anyway, and just have to hope that my prayers get through. What shall I pray?’ and the thought ‘The Lords Prayer’ popped into my mind.

‘Ok then... Our Father, who art in heaven...’ and I plodded on with it until ‘give us this day our daily bread...’ There was a KNOCK KNOCK KNOCK at the door. I quit praying, and went to the door. The first thing I noticed was the tall, white hat. Then the white apron with ‘Tesco’ logo near the neckline. Then the huge loaf of Tiger bread the baker held out to me with two hands. ‘This is a free gift for you’. I did the guppy impression for a while, and then thanked him. He said he was from Tesco’s and he was giving out free gifts in the area.

It was a real wakeup call for me – Jesus hears our every prayer, even if we can’t hear from Him, He hears our every word. And His timing is impeccable. And He has a sense of humour!

Protected during serious accident

I was walking across a pedestrian crossing at night when a car failed to slow and hit me doing at least 30 miles per hour. I just didn’t see it coming and was thrown about 20 feet over the back of the car after first smashing the windscreen with my head. I’m not sure how long I lay unconscious but when I came around I saw the ambulance pull up and somehow managed to get to on my feet. It was then that I realised blood was pouring down my shirt and as I touched my head I realised where it was coming from. I was completely numb so didn't feel anything but suddenly consumed with fear that my head was smashed open and I was about to drop dead. It was at that very moment I had an 'out of body' experience and saw from a third person the whole accident replay. I saw myself being hit by the car, flying towards the windscreen but then I saw a huge hand come between my head and the windscreen and suddenly realised it was God's hand that broke the windscreen and shielded my head. Instantly I was back in real time and all fear had completely disappeared.

I was taken to the hospital and had treatment for a small cut in my head and nothing more. The doctor could not believe that was the extent of my injuries and said normally people don't survive or have serious brain damage from a head on impact like that. I'm not sure if he believed it was God who saved me but he did seem very thoughtful after. He did say I would get concussion from an impact like that but guess what I didn't even have any concussion effects what so ever!

Thank you Jesus for protecting me!
